MICHAEL DAVITT

Eludes the Soldiers and Delivers an Address at Bodyke.

DUBLIN, June 12.—In consequence of the government's proclamation forbidding the meetings announced to be held at Bodyke to-day, an extra military force was drafted into service to enable the authorities to enforce the proclamation. Michael Davitt eluded the authorities, however, and addressed five hundred persons at Feakle while the soldiers were searching for him. He afterwards spoke at Scariff. He asserted the people's right of meeting in public and said if the people were armed they could deal with the black-coated burglar brigade as they deserved to be. He denied having counselled any further resort to extreme or violent measures. He had only maintained that it would be cowardly not to show every rational resistance. He expected this would be the last meeting which he would have the chance to address before the Coercion Act would again indulge him with the luxuries of a prison-bed. Before going into political retirement for six months he would give them this advice: Boycott the inquisition clauses of the Coercion act and welcome imprisonment rather than assist the government to make the act operative.

EXPELLED FROM GERMANY.

PARIS, June 12.—Albert Delpit who has just been expelled from Alsace was a member of the Figaro staff. He went to Benfeld, in Alsace, to see Dr. Zeiffermann, the protesting member of the Reichstag, who had previously obtained formal permission to visit Alsace on behalf of M. Delpit. On arriving at Benfeld, Delpit was ordered by the police to leave German territory within half an hour. He protested and telegraphed to Prince Hohenlohe, the Governor of Alsace-Lorraine, who confirmed the order but granted Delpit an hour's grace. The police informed Delpit that he was expelled because he tried in his writings to rouse opposition in the midst of those who should remain in Germany.

It is the duty of the nation to make every possible effort in the country's behalf.

FLOODS IN HUNGARY.

INLAND NEWS.

High Water in the Thompson—School Report—Personals.

[From the Kamloops Sentinel.]

W. F. McCulloch, Esq., Government assayer, was in Kamloops last week.

Spencer, the murderer, has not yet been caught, so far as we can learn. By this time he is, doubtless, within U. S. territory.

Mr. J. W. Gunn, lately on the Sentinel staff, left Kamloops on Thursday last for Honolulu, Sandwich Islands. Mr. Gunn was much respected in Kamloops, and we extend to him our best wishes for his future welfare wherever he may go.

Mr. Alex. Vance, a resident of Peace Valley for nearly 30 years, went riding on horseback last Tuesday, and his body was found soon afterwards about two miles from his home. It is supposed that heart disease was the cause of death; but, when his body was found, the neck was broken. This may have happened, however, whether Mr. Vance was dead when he fell from his horse, or whether the fall was by accident.

The Thompson river has been very high during the past week; some days receding about a foot, and then rising higher than before on the following day. With such an immense volume of water pouring into the Fraser from the Thompson it is no wonder that the former river is in flood, and the only surprise is that the recent inundations reported on the banks of the Fraser are not greater than they are. The Thompson, at present, carries more water than the Fraser does in ordinary seasons.

About sixty klootchmen were squatted in a circle last Wednesday on a vacant space overlooking the river at Kamloops. They sat there with all the stolidity of Indian character—silent, and indifferent to the crowd of onlookers by whom they were surrounded.

Chinese Certificates.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—At least one paper here is striving to make political capital of the allege mysterious disappearance of 1000 returned certificate blanks issued to Chinamen from the Port Townsend custom house office in 1885. From purported transcripts presented here there seems to be a gap of 1000 certificates between numbers 2347 and 3548, and Chinamen are attempting to land on numbers between these figures. When the cases came up the attorney for the Chinamen argued that his clients had received their certificates at Port Townsend, in the proper and legal way, and if there was anything wrong about them it was not their fault, and therefore they should be allowed to land. "A commission," said the judge, "should be sent to Port Townend to investigate this matter and find out whether all the signatures to these certificates are in the same handwriting or not." The cases were undecided.

Enjoy Life.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Three doses of August Flower will prove its wonderful effect. Sample bottle 10c. Try it.

THE SCHOOL MEETING.

Small Attendance of Those Interested--The Report.

Lively Discussion on Secret Sessions and Appointments.

The annual meeting to receive the report of the Board of School Trustees for the past year was held at the City Hall this morning. Not much interest was taken, and in addition to the Trustees only the following citizens were present: Messrs. Wm. Lorrimer, John Braden, E. Kaye, J. Coughlan, Alex. Wilson John Kinsman and S. H. Styles. Coun. Styles occupied the chair. The secretary, Mr. Chas. Hayward, read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which on motion of Mr. Lorrimer were adopted. The secretary then read the report for the past year, as follows:

To the Electors of the Victoria City School District:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—In presenting their annual report, the Trustees have pleasure in stating that the schools under their charge continue to make gratifying progress.

The number of pupils enrolled is 1780, showing an increase over last year of 353. The daily attendance has averaged 893. The returns for May last show a daily attendance of 960.39. This is the largest average daily attendance recorded in the history of the schools, and is considerably more than one-third of the combined average attendance at all of the other public schools of the Province. The number of teachers now employed is 20, with an aggregate monthly salary of $1,875. The results from this large expenditure of public money have been, so far as the Trustees are competent to judge, satisfactory. The Superintendent of Education in his report to the Government, speaks of the schools in the highest praise. During the year the following changes have been made in the teaching staff:

Retired or resigned—Mrs L M Reid, Mr A Dods, Mr E S Wood, Mr G F Wright, Miss H Jackson, Miss S A Robinson, Mr J H Thain.

Appointed—Mr E S Wood, Miss Pollard, Mr Jos Kaye, Miss Ada Keast, Mr E F Doran, Miss Katie Todd, Miss Nellie Wolfenden, Mr D E Kerr.

The responsibility of making selection of teachers and retaining them or otherwise, rests, as you are aware entirely with the Trustees and is one of their most unpleasant and arduous duties. It was hoped that the appropriation made for an inspector of schools would have assisted the Trustees by providing them with an experienced and reliable adviser in these matters; but the appointment has not been made, notwithstanding that the necessity for a daily inspection of the schools has more than ever become an imperative duty. Early in the year it was resolved, in the interests of the schools, to make all teachers' appointments terminate annually.

The question of the establishment of a Provincial University, to which your attention was drawn last year, has again been brought to the notice of the Government, who we have reason to hope will at the next session of Parliament ask for authority to devote tracts of land in various portions of the province to form the nucleus of a fund for this purpose.

It will be necessary during the coming year to have some repairs made to school buildings and also to provide additional seats and desks. The ventilation in some of the rooms is also very defective and requires immediate attention. It is hoped before the season passes that the defective arrangements connected with the closets will be remedied and the suggestion for their improvement made some time ago carried out.

The necessity of a large hall at the Central School, in which the semi-annual examinations and other exercises of the pupils can be held, has long been felt. A large cheap frame building, that could be used during the winter months for a girl's play and recreation room, would answer the purpose, and we strongly recommend it to the favorable notice of the educational authorities.

The following moneys have been received and expended during the year, viz.:

Balance in hand at last report	$ 8 79
Net proceeds of concert given by teachers and pupils	212 62
Total	$221 41
Expended—
By amt. paid T. N. Hibben & Co.	$17 00
By amt. paid M. W. Waitt & Co.	15 00
By amt. paid J. B. Ferguson & Co.	15 00
By amt. paid W. Millington	2 50
By amt. paid G. Lambeth	1 25
	$ 50 75
Balance in hand	$170 66

NOTE—Ninety dollars of this amount has been appropriated for prizes at the approaching examinations.

The retiring trustees are: Mr. D. W. Higgins, Johnson Street Ward, Mr. R. B. McMicking, James Bay Ward; Mr. Chas. Hayward, Yates Street Ward; whose successors are to be elected by you in accordance with the Act on Monday next. In conclusion, the Board express the hope that their efforts during the past year will meet with your approval.

D. W. HIGGINS,
Chairman,
CHAS. HAYWARD,
Secretary,
R. B. McMICKING,
H. F. HEISTERMAN,
G. L. MILNE, M. D.,
W. WALKER.

In answer to a question by Mr. Lorrimer, the secretary, Mr. Hayward, stated that a year ago the teachers were notified that all appointments would terminate at the end of the year. Mr. Thain was not dismissed, but did not secure re-appointment.

Mr. Lorrimer said that the report stated that the services of the teachers were found satisfactory, and if this was so, why was Mr. Thain not re-appointed? The information was not satisfactory.

Mr. Braden thought that teachers below Mr. Thain should have been promoted instead of placing a stranger in Mr. Thain's place.

Trustee Hayward thought some other member of the Board should reply to Mr. Lorrimer's question, as he had strongly advocated Mr. Thain's re-appointment.

Trustee Higgins had taken the same view of the matter as Mr. Hayward, but was bound to acquiesce in the decision of the majority of the Board.

Trustee Miles thought the appointment of teachers should be left entirely in the hands of the Trustees, as teachers had been appointed before who had not given satisfactory service. When a vacancy occurred and a teacher was wanted for any particular department, none but a competent person should be appointed.

Mr. Braden said it had always been the practice when higher grade appointments became vacant to move up those of the lower grades. He thought this should have been done in this case.

Trustee Higgins said he was prepared to defend the action of the board in not promoting the lower grade teachers. The board had acted in the best interest of the schools. None but the best material should be secured to fill the higher grade positions.

Trustee Walker was satisfied the Board had acted in the best interests of the schools. He was sorry the appointments were made by ballot. Complaints had been made that Mr. Thain compelled pupils to write 1000 words over several times. When resolutions passed by the board were ignored by the teachers, it was time for the board to show its authority. He was of opinion that an inspector should be appointed, who would report to the regular meetings of the board.

Mr. Lorrimer said that if teachers set the resolutions of the board at defiance they merited dismissal, but thought it was not the province of the retiring board to make appointments, which should be left to the incoming board.

Trustee McMicking said that after due deliberation the Trustees felt called upon to place teachers in a position to retire without the appearance of dismissal, so that it would not militate against their securing other appointments. The appointment of teachers by the retiring Board was fully discussed, and the course taken was in the interest of the teachers, as if they were not appointed until the new Board assumed office they would have no time to secure other positions in the event of failure to secure reappointment. It was the duty of the Trustees to get the best possible service for the money expended.

Mr. Alex. Wilson said the annual report, written with a lead pencil, was not creditable to a retiring Board of Trustees. He thought the Trustees were wrong in dismissing teachers without cause. If there were complaints against a teacher sufficient to demand his dismissal, the charges should be stated. A man who was incompetent had been appointed to the most important position in the schools. Why had he been appointed? He asked if an investigation had been made into the moral standing of the teachers. Did they pay their just debts, and were some of them not guilty of imbibing too freely? He objected to secret sessions whereby the public were kept in ignorance of charges preferred against teachers. He thought the manner of dismissal very unfair.

Trustee Higgins said that up to three years ago all meetings were secret, and it had since been decided to hold secret sessions only to hear charges against teachers and scholars and for the appointment of teachers. The reason for this was that in many cases the charges made were frivolous. He thought the appointment of an inspector a good idea. An inspector's salary had been paid the Superintendent for two years to provide an assistant, but no inspection had taken place. It would be far better to pay the salary to a man who would perform the work properly.

On motion of Mr. Lorrimer, seconded by Mr. Kaye, the report was adopted and the meeting adjourned.

A search warrant was issued to-day by the authorities to search the premises of a certain party suspected of having two valuable buggy rugs in his possession, which were missing by the Transfer Co. within the last few months. The party has figured before in police court circles.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

The Dominion Parliament, it is thought, will be prorogued on the 20th.

The Governor-General and party will leave at the close of the session on a fishing expedition to the Lower St. Lawrence.

It is reported that John R. Dunn, Returning Officer of Queen's County, will become landing waiter at the Customs House, Ottawa.

Baird, the so called member for Queen's, will resign immediately after the session. We did not give him credit for possessing the grace of resignation.

A movement has been started at Ottawa by the French members to induce the government to propose a Jubilee indemnity, to the members, of $500 each.

Editor Sheppard, of the Toronto News, will, it is said, fight the matter of his arrest in the Ontario courts before he surrenders himself to the Quebec authorities to take him to Montreal for trial.

The Manitoba Legislature was prorogued on Friday afternoon with the usual formalities. The Opposition made a strong effort to have merely an adjournment, but the Government would not consent, promising to call the legislature together if anything required their attendance.

A large delegation, representing the bars of Ontario and Quebec, has waited on the Minister of Justice and asked for an increase in judges' salaries. Thompson said nothing could be done this session, but the Government would take action next year. The British Columbia judges are no doubt satisfied with their present salaries and have declined to join in the demand.

The Manitoba newspapers, of all shades of politics are indignant with those representatives of that province and the Northwest who voted for disallowance. The Toronto News sagely asks: "Whatelse did they expect? They elected these men as Tories, and as such they voted. The Manitobans have only to blame their own folly in supposing that professed partisans would not put their party before all other considerations.

Mr. Waddell, in Ottawa, is exhibiting a voting machine which does away with ballot papers and secures absolute accuracy in voting and leaves no door open for fraud. Nothing but a chisel or an axe can fix the machine as circumstances may require it. It is an absurd idea. A government candidate would have no more chance on polling day than the opposition man. There is no opening for a returning officer to get in his work, and if it were adopted all the present little dodges would be useless.

It appears that all the protests against the policy of assisted immigration pursued by the Federal Government have been of no avail. The appropriation for this service for the current year is $229,525. It is money badly expended. When remonstrated with by the opposition Sir Charles Tupper resorted to the stock cry of "want of patriotism." It is difficult to see just where the patriotism comes in in squandering such vast sums to find easy positions for party heelers, and pap for servile party organs, which, unless so fed, could not exist a week, and flooding the country with paper vagrants. The supply in the mechanical line is now greater than the demand—many having to go without work from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

An unusual scene was witnessed in the House of Commons on Tuesday afternoon upon the adoption of the motion of concurrence in the Senate jubilee address to the Queen. Sir John, in eloquent and patriotic words, introduced the resolution, which Laurier, speaking for the French-Canadians, seconded in a brilliant speech, both gentlemen being loudly applauded. During their remarks, Amyot objected to the word "conquered" in the address, and said Lower Canada was ceded, not conquered. The address passed unanimously, members and spectators arising, and "God Save the Queen" rang through the chamber, all joining enthusiastically in singing the National Athem.

So little attention is paid to the proceedings of the Senate that its debates are not reported in the eastern papers. Despairing of accomplishing anything worthy of notice on its merits, the Senate some time ago entered into an arrangement by which their debates are published in The Ottawa Citizen and The Ottawa Free Press on payment of $300 a year to each paper. It would have bothered the Senate to organize a more severe reflection upon itself. It will next be necessary to bonus the public to read these reports of its proceedings. The singular part of the arrangement with the Ottawa journals is that the money is paid on account of Hansard, and by private agreement handed over to the newspapers. The appropriation for the Senate Hansard was increased this year from $6,000 to $8,000.

INSOMNIA.

The fears entertained regarding the condition of the Hon. EDWARD BLAKE, we regret to say, are only too well founded. The malady, insomnia, is a serious one of itself, but coupled with the other trouble with which he is threatened—softening of the brain—his condition at once becomes alarming. Sleep is nature's restorer. It is in sleep that nature does her chief work of building up, and without sleep life would soon cease to be. Many people know what it is to be awake at nights restless and uneasy. The sound of the clock ticking the seconds is positively painful, and slowly the moments and hours roll by. To read awhile is sometimes a help, but the habit of reading in such cases is not by any means a good one to get into. Opiates are not to be considered; they must be scrupulously avoided, for once a victim of insomnia gets into the habit of taking opiates to help in going to sleep the system gets a craving for them, and it is almost impossible to go to sleep without them. What can one so afflicted do but stare in the darkness and listen to the strange sounds of the night. Death-like stillness in such a case becomes painful and alarming. In short, those who are troubled with insomnia are deserving the pity and sympathy of their fellow creatures. What seems to be best is a change of air and scene. The brain is a wonderful piece of mechanism, and the nerves are not always to be kept steady. Insomnia it is said is a nervous disorder and shows that the brain is running at too high a tension and doing too much work. We think it was SANCHO PANZA who once said: "God bless the man who first invented sleep." He also had something to say about the man who invented "that artificial cut off, early rising." But people who can sleep well and retire early can afford to be up with the sun.

A correspondent writing from Ottawa on the 3rd inst., regarding Mr. BLAKE's condition, says it is the chief topic of conversation, but yet not a surprise, for his friends were aware that his condition has been such as to compel this step, and the fleets of his illness were generally known. Mr. BLAKE's case is one which gives rise to great anxiety on the part of his friends. Ever since the closing days of the recent campaign he has been afflicted with spells of insomnia. These attacks, the rebellion of nature against protracted nerve tension, at first were scarcely heeded, but as they increased in frequency and became more pronounced in their character his friends became alarmed. A visit to the Southern States afforded a relief, which lasted only until the strain of sessional work began, and then the evil grew worse than before. Mr. BLAKE absented himself from the House most of the time, and tried to rest, but when I saw him, the day before yesterday, he was sadly indisposed. He was haggard and pale. I saw him the same day in the reading-room, and a drop of rain falling upon the paper before him, from a partly open skylight above, seemed to greatly irritate him. Last night he left for home, and I am far from being alone in the belief that he will never sit in Parliament again. I hinted yesterday at softening of the brain being the fear of his friends, and I am more convinced to-day than ever that the symptoms indicate that the dread disease has begun and their fears are well founded. His insomnia is alarming. In his inability to sleep he is very much unlike Sir JOHN MACDONALD or Sir CHARLES TUPPER. Both these men, whose capacity for work has been a constant marvel to their friends, sleep abundantly and at almost any time. Those who know say that Sir JOHN falls asleep as soon as his head touches the pillow, and for seven, eight, nine and sometimes ten hours he will never wake. Sir CHARLES' power of recuperation through his ability to sleep long and soundly are scarcely less marked than Sir JOHN's, and to this he owes much of his capacity for work. Among the Conservative members there is sincere and general regret over Mr. BLAKE's illness.

Referring to Mr. BLAKE's resignation the Globe of the 8th inst., says: "The condition of Mr. BLAKE's health being such as to forbid the expectation that he will be able to withdraw his definite resignation of the Liberal leadership, a caucus of the party was held in Ottawa yesterday, with the design to consider the succession. It would appear that LAURIER has been made responsible for at least the temporary discharge of the duties of chief spokesman, but to leave the business in such a shape would be a grave error. The Liberals must face the situation squarely, and recognize practically that it would be unfair to Mr. LAURIER to place the heavy burden on his shoulders without reposing in him all the privileges, freedom and authority of the leader. His appointment would be as judicious and generally acceptable as any, but it would be an error to place him or any other man in the false position that would ensue from the failure to recognize Mr. BLAKE's return to the lead as absolutely not to be looked for. It would not be an less unfair to Mr. BLAKE to allow the impression to prevail in the country that the stricken chief can be expected to resume, at the peril of a total break down, any responsibilities which he has been compelled to abandon. Mr. BLAKE is very ill, and threatened with parnlysis. His friends are seriously alarmed at his condition.

Catarrah, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

What is Thought of Our Coasting Trade in the East.

Waters Abounding with Fish—Fortunes for Enterprising Men.

The Toronto Monetary Times is publishing a series of articles on the Trade and Commerce of the West. The third of the course is devoted to British Columbia, and from which we make the following extract:—The traveler expresses much surprise when, for the first time he sees the maritime province of British Columbia. On the Atlantic Coast he sees everything overdone, even to the little "fore and after" coasting. The West India trade is overdone, and the trade to South America is not what it was in palmy days, nor is the forests of masts so dense as it was when the coal trade with the States was active and profitable. The prosperous Atlantic coaster, instead of spanning the continent with his enterprising eye, with a view to new shipyards and argosies for southern and western seas, sent his sons to college to make them gentlemen! Even commerce, with its broad and enlightened civilization, was "shop" to these young men, and the spectacle is presented to the world of a country on one coast of which commerce is overdone, while on the other the great world's civilizer has but barely shown its wings. From the

on the north to Victoria on the south there is not as much coasting trade as there was on the western coast of Nova Scotia one hundred years ago. Once a fortnight? a steamer threads its way up from Portland along the land locked channel of the Columbia to Wrangel at the southern extremity of Alaska, and now and then an occasional trading schooner may be seen beating into one of the many inlets which indent the coast from Port Simpson to Victoria. It must be recollected that the waters of the Northern Pacific abound in fish and as yet no systematic effort has been made to develope these immense resources, if a few salmon canning industries may be excepted. Fortunes await the enterprising men who will start the fishing industries along that coast. There are, too, inexhaustible supplies of timber along these shores, and shipyards must eventually dot the inlets along the whole coast. The men to develope this industry must come from the maritime provinces of the east and from the old world; and when the number of foolish ventures that are being made every day by experienced commercialists are considered it is not surprising that the western coast has remained so long neglected. The Canadian Pacific Railway has already made arrangements to and so develope the trade between the Dominion and far Cathay; but it is not the business of the company to provide shipyards and establish fisheries or build sawmills. These are the enterprises of private firms, and the traveler is compelled to observe that the capitalist is very slow in realizing the mine of wealth there is in the resources of the western coast.

The Dominion Government has laid more stress on agricultural immigration to the Canadian Northwest than it has to the fishing and lumbering industry of the western coast. Its agents argue that there is no immediate advantage gained to the country by interprovincial migration, because the population of the whole country is not increased—a fishing population is merely transferred from one coast to another. And, therefore, while it is an advantage to the fisherman, it is not such a direct benefit to the Government as would be the influx of agricultural laborers from other countries. There is some truth in this, but it must be remembered that for years the Maritime Provinces have been losing an industrious class, which has gone to the Atlantic States of the Union because of the want of employment caused by commercial depression. Why should this continue? And would it not cease if there was any considerable degree of commercial activity on the Northwestern coast? And would there not be a large immigration of these people to the Western coast if such activity prevailed? Most certainly there would be and no better means of expatriating the Maritime Canadian from the Western States present themselves than this.

OUR COAL TRADE.

The coal trade of British Columbia is unlike that of Nova Scotia, for instead of suffering from depression it has been in a condition of increasing activity. Beginning with annual output of something like 12,500 tons per annum it has risen to 253,000 tons per annum and the total output since 1873 has reached 1,750,000 tons. The province possesses a monopoly of the coal trade, as there is no coal in California or Oregon; and but an indifferent quality of that article in Washington Territory. Since the exciting days of the Fraser, in 1859, British Columbia has exported $32,000,000 worth of gold; as no exact figures of its timber exports have been kept it is impossible to give the amount, but, like its gold exports, it has been enormous. When the full force of these facts strikes the Canadian public they will begin to realize the tremendous importance which the people of the outside world attach to the Dominion or the Pacific, for, indeed, British Columbia, in one sense, is not a Canadian province; it is cosmopolitan and the outside world takes nearly as much interest in it as it did years ago in the flourishing state of California or the more southern countries of the Western Coast.

Henry Ward Beecher.

Thomas W. Knox's "Life and Work of Henry Ward Beecher" has already taken rank as the standard Life of this famous man. It is a complete, impartial and authentic record of Mr. Beecher's public career and private life from the cradle to the grave. It tells of his birth-place and early home; of his boyhood and youth; how he contemplated running away to sea and the preparations he made for it; of his college days and the pranks he played; of his marriage; of his work as a country minister; of his labors for the down-trodden slave; of his art as a preacher; of his power as an orator; of his work in England during the civil war; of his editorial and political work; of Plymouth Church; of the great scandal and the charges made by Theodore Tilton; of the memorable trial that followed; of his travels in Europe; of his death, etc. The volume commends itself to every one at sight. The wonder is that such a thoroughly excellent and complete volume can be sold at the low price of $2.00. The city will be canvassed by Mr. James O'Neill for subscribers to this excellent work, and we have no doubt he will meet with a liberal encouragement.

Senator Schultz will probably succeed Lieut-Governor Aikens, of Manitoba. The Montreal Gazette says Mr. Chapleau will remain in the cabinet, and another authority says Taschereau will leave the Supreme Court to become Governor of Quebec.

2593 New Proposals for Life Assurance were received during the year for ..... $ 6,608,660

2293 Proposals were Accepted, assuring .... $ 5,734,729

The Total Existing Assurances in force at November 15, 1886, amounted to $99,607,745

The Claims by Death or Matured Endowments which arose during the year amounted, including Bonus Additions, to $ 2,987,086

The foregoing interesting facts in connection with the operations of the Standard Life Assurance Company during 1886 commend themselves not only to the numerous body of policy holders within the province, but to those who contemplate assurance. The enormous financial strength of this old established institution, the liberal conditions of its Policies, the large periodical distribution in bonuses to its Policy holders, and the numerous facilities afforded for assurance both by Endowment or Whole Life Assurance, all combine in placing the Standard in the first rank of Life Assurance Companies.

The Local Board of Directors at Victoria have full power to accept Proposals, issue Policies, and settle claims. Full particulars and rates for Assurance can be procured from the Agents and Secretaries to the Board.

How to Guard Against Fraud or Mistake in Business Transactions—Check Book and Stubs—Writing Up the Bank Book. Checks as Receipts.

The custom of the banks, when it is decided to open an account with a customer, is to require the customer to write his name in a book, kept for that purpose, at the time the account is opened. The obvious reason is to guard against fraud or mistake in all subsequent transactions in which the bank has to determine the genuineness of the customer's signature. If the genuineness of a check presented for payment to the paying teller is suspected, the signature may be compared at once with that recorded with the bank, as has been stated, and thus its validity be determined.

In opening an account with a bank the customer is furnished by the bank with a book in which is entered on the left hand, or credit, page the amount deposited by him. All subsequent deposits are entered in the book, with the date, respectively, of each deposit. At the time of opening an account the bank will, generally, furnish the customer with a check book containing twenty-five or more checks, and for this no charge is made. Persons wishing to have nicely engraved checks can get them, but a charge is usual in such cases, though the amount will not exceed seventy-five cents for a book of a like number of checks. At the same time the bank will also furnish to the customer a sufficient number of "tickets," which are small pieces of paper containing at the head a blank for the person's name to be inserted, also a blank for the date, and below the words "checks" and "cash." Whenever a deposit is made the depositor fills up a ticket, giving his name and the date, and writing in the column against the words "check" and "cash" the amount of each, respectively, deposited. These tickets should always accompany the bank book when a deposit is made. They are kept on file by the bank, and serve as vouchers for both the bank and the depositor, from which the accuracy of the account may be determined, if the question should arise at any time as to the amount, the time and the nature of any deposit.

A moment's examination of the check book will serve to show the depositor the method of drawing a check. It will be observed, first, that every check is numbered in its order, generally upon the upper left hand corner. Again, the place to tear off a check is indicated by the perforated line. When torn off at this line the part remaining in the book is called the "stub."

A check is merely an order on a bank to pay the person named in the check a certain sum of money. It will be obvious to any one who is about to draw his check that it should be dated, and the name of the payee, or person in whose favor it is drawn, should be inserted in the body of the check; that the amount to be paid should be written in, and also indicated by figures after the dollar sign, and that the check should be signed by the drawer at the place indicated. A check should always be drawn with great care and accuracy.

The stubs, to which reference has been made, are an important part of a check book, as they contain a complete record, if properly kept, of all transactions with the bank. They are transcripts of all checks drawn from time to time, and show the numbers, amounts, the dates and the names of the payees, respectively. In drawing checks filling up the stubs should never be omitted. It is not only important for the reasons stated, but is vastly important in determining the state of the account. By adding together the several amounts found in the stubs it is obvious that the amount drawn from the bank may be readily determined. This amount deducted from the amount deposited, which will appear in the bank book, will show the amount standing to the credit of the depositor. A gentleman, for the sake of convenience, once took out of his check book a number of blank checks, which he carried in his pocket, in order that he might use them at any time. He used them all, but neglected to keep an account of them, as he would have done had he had the stubs before him; when, to his dismay, he was one day notified by the bank that his account was overdrawn. Small checks, like small and frequent accounts at a store, make terrible inroads upon one's bank account, and it is well to watch them closely.

A bank book should be regularly and frequently "written up," particularly when checks have been frequently drawn. This is done at the bank by a bookkeeper, who enters in the bank book the amount shown by the customer's account to have been paid from time to time. These amounts are compared with the checks drawn to insure accuracy. When thus transcribed into the customer's book, the amount is found and subtracted from the amount deposited, and the balance carried to a new account. The checks are returned to the customer with his book when it is written up, and are the customer's vouchers. He may compare them with the stubs in his check book and determine whether they correspond in amount and are correct. It is well to keep these checks. In many cases they serve as receipts for bills paid. They are receipts. A check is given, for instance, to the dressmaker for her bill; it is payable to her order. Before she can get the money upon it she must indorse it; that is, write her name across the back. When returned by the bank to the drawer with such indorsement it shows that the check has been presented by her and paid; and it then becomes a receipt, or what is equivalent to one.—Demorest's Monthly.

Habits of Miser Paine.

The portrait of a miser which is being drawn in the contest over the will of James Henry Paine, of New York, would furnish rich material for a novelist. The habits of the man, who left $400,000 tied in an old handkerchief, are shown by his visits to a restaurant for his meals. He was very fond of mutton stews. Occasionally one would not suffice and he would call for a second; the price for a stew was ten cents. Generally his pockets were stuffed with pieces of dry bread, which would at times fall out on the floor. He would order a stew, pile up crusts of hard bread taken from his pockets, throw over them about half a bottle of Worcestershire sauce and then swallow the whole with a voracity terrible to behold.—Chicago Journal.

Tilden and His Stocks.

Mr. Tilden frequently invested in railroad stocks whenever there was a decline in the market or a chance to get in on the ground floor in a deal, which assisted him, however, to be considered a speculator. He would indignantly repudiate the characterization, and say: "I am an investor, not a speculator. I buy when I consider stocks are a good purchase; then I decide on the figure I will sell at, just as a grocer marks his selling price, and I sell whenever I can get my price, without refrence to the market."—Chicago Herald.

A Prize for an Answer.

The Berlin Weekly Echo offers a prize of twenty marks for the briefest and wittiest answer to the following conundrum: A young spendthrift who is able to borrow money only because his affianced has promised to pay his debts after the wedding, falls into a river together with her before the wedding has taken place, and both are on the point of being drowned. A miserly creditor of the young man happens to pass, jumps into the water and saves—whom and why?

A New Marriage Ritual.

The Marquis of Queensberry, who is being sued for divorce, once proposed to substitute in the marriage ritual of the English church for the words: "Whom God hath joined together let no man put asunder" the words "Whom the government or nature may put asunder let no man attempt to keep together."—Chicago Tribune.

MARINE.

The British steamer Restitution, 2171 tons, recently purchased by the C. P. N. Co., and commanded by Captain Abbott, has sailed from Hamburg for this coast.

The Sardonyx left Saturday at midnight for Vancouver and Departure Bay for coal. She carried ninety tons of freight. On her way to Portland it is understood she will touch at the outer wharf.

The Maude will leave for the West coast at 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The Geo. W. Elder arrived at noon today from San Francisco.

The Mexico having been thoroughly repaired will sail from 'Frisco on Friday. The Chester will be withdrawn.

Just in Time for the Jubilee.

Ladies' fine kid pump sole boots, slippers and sandals for dancing, in great variety, from Saller, Lewin & Co., of Philadelphia. Bottom prices, at the B. C. Boot and Shoe Store, opposite post-office. H. MANSELL.

A Pretty Tableau.

One of the principal attractions of the Jubilee celebration in San Francisco will be the tableau "Britannia." The principal figure will be Britannia crowned with a wreath of laurel representing victory, and holding in one hand a shield, the other grasping a trident, typical of naval supremacy. She is to be arrayed in a Grecian robe bearing the three emblems—the rose, thistle, and the shamrock. At her feet will crouch the British lion and around her will stand figures representing different portions of the Empire. A trapper will represent Canada and a North American Indian in full dress will stand for British Columbia. One hundred and fifty voices will sing the National Anthem and Rule Britannia. It is expected that the Earl of Aberdeen, late Lord Lieut. of Ireland, will arrive from Australia in time to be present at the celebration.

School Board Meeting.

A meeting of the school board was held on Saturday evening. There were present Trustees Higgins, Hayward, Milne, Hiestermen, McMiken and Walker. After routine business had been disposed of Chairman Higgins intimated that it was not his intention to offer himself again for re-election. The board, on motion of Dr. Milne, seconded by Mr. Heisterman, moved a vote of thanks to chairman Higgins for the satisfactory manner in which he had discharged the duties of chairman for the past year. A similar vote was tendered to Mr. Hayward for his services as secretary. The chairman read a parting address. Several communications were read. The monthly report showed the average attendance to be 980. There are 1,700 names on the school honor roll.

A Testing Course.

The Harbor Commissioners of San Francisco intend laying out the first measured nautical mile testing course on the coast, and the first steamer to have her speed tested over it will be the new steel steamer now being constructed by the Union Iron Works of San Francisco for the C.P.N.Co. A steamer, when tested moves at full speed over the course, and the time is taken when she crosses the first imaginary line and the second, the difference being her time in steaming a mile. This is repeated six times and the average is giving as her maximum speed.

A Wolf Killed.

There is now one vicious wolf less in Lake District to sup on innocent sheep, and the good farmers of the district are consequently happy. Mr. S. Jones, a farmer of Lake, who had been annoyed for some time past by the brute's depredations, last week set a trap for the midnight marauder with the good luck to find the game safely caught on Friday morning last. Not having firearms on him he despatched it at once with a club. The beast is an old and large gray one, measuring five feet in length, and Mr. Jones feels elated at its riddance.

Anglican Synod.

The annual meeting of the Bishop, Clergy and Lay Representatives of the Synod of the Church of England will take place on Wednesday next, the 15th inst. The proceedings will commence with Divine Service at Christ Church Cathedral at 10 a. m., at which the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Henry Howitt, and the Holy Communion celebrated. An adjournment will then be made to the Cathedral school for the transaction of the usual business.

Exporting Moss.

By the City of Chester, sailing last Saturday, there was shipped from this port, 580 bags of moss, consigned to a San Francisco florist for the Bay City's use. The moss is the common variety growing in abundance in the woods near this city, and is used for ornamental purposes. Hitherto the supply came from Oregon, but it appears has been exhausted there, and the supply in future will come from this Province.

Anniversary.

It was a lovely June morning, one year ago to-day, that the news was flashed across the wires to THE TIMES that the embryo city of Vancouver was destroyed by fire. The sad event was at once posted up on Frank Campbell's corner, and sorrowfully read by a gaping throng. There was talk in Vancouver of celebrating the first anniversary by giving the firemen a dinner to-night.

Paintin' 'Er Red.

This time it is Supt. Bloomfield and a police officer, who, on Saturday last painted Yates and Government streets red. The daubs are on the sidewalk about thirty feet apart, and are for the guidance of express wagons and hacks, which distance in future they must stand from each other. The procession of vehicles is now lengthier than ever in consequence.

COMMUNING WITH SPIRITS.

An Unsatisfactory Exhibition of Slate-Writing by Spirits.

An audience of about one hundred ladies and gentlemen assembled in Harmony Hall on Sunday evening to hear Dr. Stansbury's lecture on the "Philosophy of Spiritualism," and to witness his demonstrations of the phenomena that lend to the mysterious doctrine the only interest—to the doubting Thomases at least—that it possesses. The doctor read his lecture, which was not unlike the stereotyped article that we have heard on a score of platforms from mediums of more or less repute. Upon the conclusion of the lecture, Dr. Stansbury gave an exhibition of slate-writing, when messages from spirit friends were supposed to be written on a slate, in full view of the audience, by the unseen hand of an unseen spirit. A number of small slates were provided for the experiments, and these the medium carefully cleaned with a wet sponge and wiped clean with his handkerchief. Two of them were then placed together, with a piece of pencil between, and tied in that position. The audience were asked to write the name of a departed friend on a slip of paper, along with a question to be answered, and many complied with the request. A lady from the audience sat at a table with the doctor, and held the slate sometimes on top and sometimes under the table. A few minutes were occupied with each test, and when the slates were untied, a message was found written on one of them, ostensibly in reply to a question on one of the slips of paper. Although it was said to be a pretty good night for spirits, only four or five replies were received, and all of the ghostly language was of such a vague and general character that it might have been written by the medium himself. Dr. Tolmie, for instance, spoke approvingly of the spirit-life, but the writing was quite unlike the well-known hand of our lamented friend. Capt. Walker found the world beyond precisely what he had expected, and thanked his friends for attentions given to him in his last hours in this life, and the honors paid to him at the burial of his body. It was, perhaps, only a mistake on the part of the medium to refer to the "attentions," for it will be remembered Capt. Walker died suddenly in bed during the night and no special "attention" could be paid to him in his last moments by his loving relatives. Another said it was quite true that we live after death, and still another sent greetings to his daughter, who is a medium, counselling her to "stand steadfast in the faith," etc. A score of questions were left unanswered, and among them were several that would have established the genuineness of the pretensions of Dr. Stansbury beyond the possibility of a doubt. They were perhaps too hard nuts for the spirits to crack. The only test of any consequence was a failure. Several young gentlemen, who are partial believers and anxious to investigate further, brought two slates sealed together with sealingwax, with a pencil and a slip of paper bearing a question between. This slate was given to Dr. Stansbury, and after a trial was returned to the owner, who broke the seal and found—no writing. This ended the exhibition, which, needless to say, was far from satisfactory to either the believers or the sceptics, who were about evenly represented.

Black and Tan Cigars,

Notabilia.

E. F. Spence, banker and Ex-Mayor of Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Spence, Miss Spence and his family, were passengers by the Elder to-day and are proceeding to Europe via the C. P. R. This gentleman is one of California's foremost philanthropists, and has contributed largely to various educational and charitable institutions. His latest donation was a check for $50,000 to the Southern California University for the establishment of an astronomical observatory in Southern California. This afternoon they were taking in the city and suburbs.

Mr. Joseph Spratt.

On reaching his home last night Mr. Joseph Spratt was examined by Drs. McSwain and Dearden, who decided upon having an operation performed on him. His affection is dropsy of the heart and in order to relieve him of his sufferings he was tapped on the right side and in the neighborhood of 36 ounces of water extracted. The operation relieved him for a time. This morning he felt much better, having rested fairly well last night. It is feared, however, that the trouble cannot be shaken off and that the worst is to be apprehended.

The Abyssinia.

The Abyssinia passed up the Straits at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Vancouver, 14½ days from Yokohama. It is coincident that she should arrive on the anniversary of the burning of the city, but the two events are extremes. The arrival of this pioneer vessel, from far off Cathay, on time, is in keeping with the C. P. R. service in general, and everything so far has been carried out to the letter.

Tony Cigars,

The Distance.

Considerable discussion is now going on in this city as to the distance between Vancouver and Oriental ports. The distance given by the C. P. R. from Vancouver to Yokohama by steamer is 4334 miles; to Hong Kong, 5966 miles. Both distances are shorter than the San Francisco route to the same ports by 546 miles.

B. C. M. & M. Company.

There was a large attendance of the shareholders in person and by proxy of the above company at the meeting held to-day in the company's office, Langley street. In the absence, through sickness, of Mr. Joe Heywood, Hon. Mr. Justice Gray occupied the chair. The position of the company was fully discussed, after which a resolution was passed amending the constitution of the company, and empowering the directors to take advantage of the Act passed by the Legislature last April to aid the development of quartz mines, and indemnifying the directors for any action taken therein by them.

Sham Fight.

At the sham fight on Saturday at Macauley's Point, about 500 blue jackets, commanded by Com. Simpson, two companies of marines under Major Kirchoffer, 80 militia under Colonel Wolfenden, and a field battery of three nine and three six pound guns. The drill was a complete success, the blue jackets and marines especially performing the various revolutions of attack and defence with machine-like precision. A few mistakes occurred on the part of the militia, but considering their opportunities for drill they did exceedingly well. A sailor, unfortunately, had his leg broken, but we learn to-day he is doing well.

With a Will.

The contributions to the Nanaimo relief fund in San Francisco now aggregate some $12,000, but the money is not coming in as freely as is wished. We learn that John Rosenfeld, who is collecting the fund, will solicit money in person shortly. Mr. Rosenfeld is a power in San Francisco, and, personally canvassing, could do much to augment the fund.

Swelling the Exchequer.

On the Elder to-day were 24 Chinese for this province, of whom four were women. The duties collected amounted to $1200, $600 of which goes to the province under the new act.
